New Hanover County Schools Offers “What’s Next in Your Life?” Transition Fair for Special Needs Students and Parents

As a part of North Carolina Disabilities Awareness month being observed in October, New Hanover County Schools’ Transition Advisory Team will hold the “What’s Next in Your Life?” Transition Fair for parents and students with disabilities and special needs. The fair will be held on Tuesday, October 30, 2012, beginning at 9:30 a.m. in the Dale K. Spencer Building located at 1802 South 15th Street, Wilmington, NC. Admission is free.

Wilmington area agencies and employers will be available from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. to speak with students and parents. There will be evening breakout sessions beginning at 6:00 p.m. and ending at 7:30 p.m. These sessions will include presentations such as: “Legal Questions & Concerns,” “Managed Care Changes,” “Vocational Rehabilitation Services,” and “Exploration of Assistive Technology.”

The fair is designed to expose students and parents to the employment and educational opportunities, as well as the community services that are available to them in the greater Wilmington area. The employers and community agencies will be available to share information on employment opportunities and resources provided by local agencies.

Students from Mosley Performance Learning Center, Ashley, Hoggard, Laney and New Hanover high schools will be given the opportunity to take part in the fair during the day.

For additional information, contact Betsy Stanwood, Transition Program for Young Adults Liaison, at (910) 254-4449 or via email betsy.stanwood@nhcs.net.
